

Home Schooling

The Eagle County School District Board of Education has a strong belief in the effectiveness of the public school system, and with the exception of extreme cases, believes that the public school is a better place for a well-rounded education than is the isolation of home instruction.

In any case, decisions as to whether or not to approve home study requests should be based upon what is in the best interest for the student rather than what is convenient for parents.

REGULATIONS:

1. The Eagle County School District will follow Colorado statutes in cooperating with parents/guardians who wish to have their child(ren) receive education that is an alternative to education in an accredited public or private school.
2. The Superintendent (or his/her designee), as the attendance officer for Eagle County School District, shall inform parents/guardians who wish to have their child(ren) receive a non-public home-based education of their rights and responsibilities for non-public home-based education under the law passed by the Colorado State Legislature.
3. The Board of Education recognizes that regulation of non-public home-based educational programs should be sufficiently flexible to accommodate a variety of circumstances consistent with the Board's understanding of applicable state laws.

PROCEDURES AND PROCESS FOR HOME STUDY APPLICATION:

When a parent or guardian of a student below the age of 16 wants to establish a home-based education program for his child, the following procedures shall be followed in accordance with law:

- (a) The parent/guardian must submit on an annual basis written notification of establishment of the home-based program to the district's Superintendent fourteen (14) days before the program is established.
- (b) The parent/guardian must certify in writing the name, age, place of residence and number of hours of attendance of each of his children in the program.
- (c) The superintendent shall give the parent/guardian fourteen (14) days written notice to produce records required by law if he has probable cause to believe the program is not in compliance with the law.
- (d) Each student in a home-based program shall be evaluated when the student is in the third, fifth, seventh, ninth, and eleventh grades. The student's academic progress shall be evaluated either by giving him a nationally standardized achievement test or by submitting an evaluation of the student conducted by a qualified person as defined in state law.

The Superintendent shall be responsible for reviewing the student's evaluation which either shall be submitted to the district or to an independent or parochial school in Colorado. If the test or evaluation results are submitted to an independent or parochial school, the name of the school shall be provided to the district.

If the student's composite score on the test is above the 13th percentile, the student shall continue to be eligible for the home-based educational program. If his score is at or below the 13th percentile, his parent/guardian shall be given the opportunity to have him retested using an alternate version of the same test or a different nationally standardized test selected by the parent/guardian from a list supplied by the State Board of Education.

- (e) If the evaluation conducted by a qualified person indicates that the student is making sufficient academic progress according to his ability, the student shall continue to be exempt from compulsory attendance.
- (f) If the composite score on a retest continues to be at or below the 13th percentile or if the evaluation conducted by a qualified person indicates that the student is not making sufficient academic progress, the district shall take steps to require the parent/guardian to enroll the student in a public, independent, or parochial school.

Extra Curricular and interscholastic activities

Students participating in home-based educational programs shall have the same rights as district students to participate in district extracurricular and interscholastic activities if they meet the requirements of state law and Board policy. Such participation is subject to the same rules of any interscholastic organization or association of which the district is a member.

Habitually truant students

Any student who has been declared habitually truant at any time during the last six months he attended public school before his proposed enrollment in a home-based educational program may not be enrolled unless his parent/guardian first submits a written description of the curricula to be used along with the written notification required in (a) above.

Re-entering district schools

A student from a home-based program may re-enter the district's schools at any time. With the consent of the student's parent/guardian, the district shall place the student at the grade level deemed most appropriate by the district. All students from home-based programs must demonstrate proficiency in the district-adopted content standards at their appropriate placement level. The district may test the student to determine placement.

The district shall accept the transcripts from a home-based educational program. In order to determine whether the courses and grades earned are consistent with district requirements and district academic standards, the district shall require submission of the student's work or other proof of academic performance for each course for which credit toward graduation is sought. In addition, the district may administer testing to the student to verify the accuracy of the student's transcripts. The district may reject any transcripts that cannot be verified. See policy IKF.
